

Business Advisory

Professional Influencer

Become a business advisor and unleash your inner influencer! You'll make epic things happen using the latest tech to boost efficiency, assess risks and solve problems for businesses.

Is it a good match for me?

If you're the kind of person who loves taking the lead, with strong problem-solving and communication skills, then you are totally set for an epic adventure in the realm of business advisory.

Where could I work?

Accounting firms of any size, technology organisations, and health services such as Google, Samsung, and Johnson & Johnson, plus not-for-profits like Oxfam and Doctors without Borders.

How do I get there?

You don't need to study anything specific in high school, but business-related subjects can help you get a head start.
