

2022 Inclusive Education Forum

What's the difference between inclusive education and education for social justice?

In this inaugural joint Forum, researchers from The Centre for Inclusive Education and Teachers and Teaching Research Group come together to discuss dangerous dilemmas concerning understandings of education for social justice and inclusive education. Presenters will wrestle with questions around equal opportunity and who to include, the importance of language, avoiding the assimilatory dangers of inclusion, balancing rights, and the implications for curriculum, pedagogy and the structures of schooling.

6 May 2022

E550 Education Precinct, Kelvin Grove Campus, QUT Brisbane

8.30-8.55	Registration, Tea & Coffee
8.55-9.15	Acknowledgement of Country & Welcome to the Faculty of Creative Industries, Education and Social Justice
9.15-10.15	OPENING KEYNOTES
	Education for Social Justice Professor Martin Mills, Director, Teachers and Teaching Research Group (TTRG)
10.15-11.15	RESEARCH PRESENTATIONS
	Inclusive Education: It's a way to achieve social justice but for all . Professor Linda Graham, Director, The Centre for Inclusive Education (C4IE)
11.15-11.45	MORNING TEA
	RESEARCH PRESENTATIONS
11.45-12.30	Responding to the policy space - the case of CaLD/EAL/D learners and Inclusive Education. Associate Professor Jennifer Alford – ARC DECRA and Co-Leader, C4IE Inclusion & Exclusion Program
	GROUP DISCUSSION
12.30-1.30	What's in a name? Key terms and what they do and don't mean MCs: A/Prof Jen Alford and A/Prof Terri Bourke
1.30 - 2.30	LUNCH
2.30-3.00	CLOSING KEYNOTE
	Getting schools ready for Indigenous academic achievement (+ inclusion) Professor Peter Anderson, Carumba Institute
	PANEL DISCUSSION
3.00-4.00	Being conscious of dangerous dilemmas MC: Haley Tancredi; Dr Craig Wood, Research Officer at Queensland Teacher Union, Prof Peter Anderson, Carumba Institute, Prof Lori Lockyer, Executive Dean, Prof Linda Graham, C4IE Director, Prof Martin Mills (TTRG).
4.00-5.00	REFRESHMENTS & NETWORKING