

Australian access to digital media markets

Streaming Film and TV

Streaming services have radically changed entertainment markets, but Australian services are still lagging behind. There are far fewer streaming services operating in Australia, and their catalogues are much smaller than those of US providers.

Australians can only access about a third of the film titles available to stream in the US, and about two thirds of TV shows.

Films

TV Shows

US v Australia Catalogues

Film and TV
Streaming and Purchasing

Films available to buy

Films available to stream

TV Seasons available to buy

TV Seasons available to stream

Its US catalogue has twice as many of the past 5 years' most popular film and television titles than in the Australian version.

digitalmediaobservatory.net.au/report2017

This research was conducted by researchers at Queensland University of Technology's Digital Media Research Centre, funded in part by the Australian Communications Consumer Action Network.

The operation of the ACCAN is made possible by funding provided by the Commonwealth of Australia under section 593 of the Telecommunications Act 1997. This funding is recovered from charges on telecommunications carriers.