

T<sup>3</sup>: Today's Teaching Tip

End of semester self-reflections*

- Two main points for productive lecturer self-reflection; (1) a list of effective reflection questions, and (2) implementation of pedagogical changes after the reflection, to improve performance.
- Questions for self-reflection:
  - How do I rate my teaching during the semester?
  - Did I achieve my stated goals? Why? or why not?
  - What was my biggest improvement? Why?
  - Where did I fail? Why?
  - How can I improve my teaching, and student learning?
  - Is my classroom management good enough?
  - What did students find most difficult? Why?
  - What is the most important thing I learned about teaching this semester.

To read further, see: Self-reflection on teaching